States Her Platform

Editor of the Carmel Sun
Dear Sir:
Answering numerous requests to define my stand as candidate in the coming election I take this means of doing so.
We are all conscious of the sacred duty we owe to the education of our children. The future of our community, of our nation, of the human race in fact, depends on the education and training we give to the boys and girls of today. The ideals we hold before them and the examples we set them in our own words and deeds will bear fruit in twenty years from now. Are we sowing the seed that we should like to harvest then?

Ever since I came here I have been distressed to find the Public School of Carmel an object of strife for two warring factions and have observed with alarm the increasing bitterness of this struggle.

Each party claims to stand for certain fundamental principles, each blames the other for ill-will or poor judgment.

Important as these matters may be it seems to me they are at present overshadowed by an issue of greater importance, and the evil influence exerted by children if the school is the center of a struggle for money, and the children are reared in an atmosphere of personal animosity in the community.

That can be done to create a better environment for the child is not yet prepared to feel that I MUST be accused of the spiritual death of the children will

I feel hopeful about the future since I know quite definitely that in spite of all that has been said and done, both factions believe in the good of the school and the children of heart and I firmly believe that both sides have not only a right but a duty to use their ability and their judgment for the keeping up and the betterment of the school by co-operation in its management.

It is cooperation alone and cooperation in the widest sense, that will bring about a solution of our community problem and that will help us to educate our children into happy, healthy, individuals and enlightened, useful and loyal citizens.

The group I represent in this election has not asked me to make any promises, they have not pledged me to any definite policy in case I should be elected. They are willing to trust my sense of justice and my common sense, as I trust their integrity and sincere desire for fairplay for everyone.

I am not sufficiently familiar with the situation in the school itself to be able to say that I have any definite program in case I should be elected. I trust that even an investigation will not make it necessary for me to advocate radical changes of any kind but I shall certainly be in favor of thrift and economy wherever they can be used to advantage, and this is not only in consideration of our economic crisis but because I believe that thrift, resourcefulness, and adaptability to changing conditions play an important role in the character building of children as for instance, industry, perseverance and self-control.

While my faction has not pledged ME to anything they have pledged themselves to an election campaign characterized by dignity and goodwill and this sentiment has my heartiest agreement.

BELGIUM VICE CONSUL VISITS IN CARMEL

Some fortunate folk in Belgium will have the pleasure of seeing the beauties of Point Lobos, vice consul of that country, Paul Van der Stichele, having come here over the week-end to take moving pictures of the scenes hereabout. He was accompanied by his wife and her mother, Mrs. Moos.

All were guests of Madame Pirrenne at Monte Verde and Ocean and were delighted with the country here. They leave March 9 for their home in Belgium.

EL FUMADOR LARGER WITH PARTITIONS REMOVED

El Fumador is a popular place for friends to meet, but sometimes it was somewhat crowded. This has all been changed now, however, as a partition has been removed giving twice the floor space. The new room allows for a better display of the magazines and periodicals and is an improvement in every way. El Fumador has occupied this building for the past five years.

MRS. VALENTINE PORTER TO ENTERTAIN GUILD

The Guild of the Episcopal church is planning for a very busy afternoon next Tuesday, when they will give a program, serve tea and hold a bazaar.

Mrs. Valentine Porter will give an hour's entertainment on "Legends of Irish Mythology." Mrs. Porter's programs are so thoroughly enjoyable that this assures a large attendance.

The affair will be held at the Parish house. Keep the date in mind.

May Draft Ordinance Covering Auctions

Seven hundred dollars the first day and $1100 the next—that's what "They" say was taken out of Carmel by the recent auction sale at Temple of Heaven on Ocean avenue.

Anyway, it seemed to be the unsuspecting public, as usual, who did the paying. It is reported one lady was very much elated at having purchased a lunch cloth, without the napkins, for $4, only to find later that she could have purchased through regular channels the same cloth, with the napkins, at a less price.

Auctioneers who make breaking down sales-resistance their life work, are able to work on the emotions of a roomful of people so that they think life will be worth absolutely nothing if they can not obtain the article he is offering.

Realizing the above, the business men of Carmel are taking steps to protect the public as much as possible. To this end, a meeting was called Tuesday afternoon with the city council to consider the drafting of an ordinance covering this evil. No definite plans were made but they will meet again soon.

BAMBOO AT SCHOOL FOR MAKING KITES

Rev. Willis Edward White reports that the bamboo for making the kites to be entered in the March 4th contest may be secured at the school free to anyone who wishes to enter.

This bamboo comes from the Bakerfield Golf club, grown on their land. For several years they have given Mr. White all he wishes for his kite flying contests. One thinks of bamboo as being very light, but Mr. White was carrying a stalk last week-end about seven feet long and about three inches in diameter, and it was anything but light. This stalk, however, will be cut up into myriads of small strips and used for kite frames. Bamboo, Mr. White said, often grows to seven and eight inches in diameter.

The character of the prizes at the contest this year have been changed and though it is probable no gold will be given, they will nevertheless be well worth while.

There will be a contest between the Filipino entrants this year. They will play for position, making the effort to get under their opponent's kite, at which time they give the kite string and let it shoot against the "Enemy" in an effort to tear it up.

Remember the date, March 4. Since it will be the next holiday, it ought to be easy.

DEL MONTE BALL ROOM POPULAR LAST SATURDAY

The ball room at Hotel Del Monte was again a gay scene on Saturday evening with a number of Peninsula's entertaining at dinner parties. Miss Betty Work entertained a group in honor of her week-end guest, Miss Mary Villavack of Berkeley. Her guests were Lt. and Mrs. Wentworth, Miss Villavack, Mr. Kenneth Avery and Frank Work.

Another dinner party was given by Miss Ruth Davis when her guests included Miss Mary Davis, Miss Maura Wallace, Mr. Frank Townsend, Captain J. W. Williamson and Major Everett Conant. Together in another group were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cozens and Mr. and Mrs. Garth V. Lacey of Salinas.

Others noted in the ball room Saturday evening included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ridener, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fahrney and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Duddy, Misses Alleen Whittington, Alice Hausman, Georgine Cross, Jane Leonard, Edwina Finkham, Jane Andrews, Betty Joyce, Nadine Fox, Eleanor Gardner, and Patty Johnson and Messrs. Murray Leonard, Jr., William Stanley, Stephen Field, Charles Watson, Jack Jordan, John von Seditz, John Mather, Stuart Marble and Gordon Campbell.

Peninsula Organizes for Cheaper Electricity, Water

The following taken from Pacific Grove Tribune issue of last Friday will be of interest to Carmel folk:

Another move toward reduction of Monterey Peninsula water rates was started at a meeting of the Pacific Grove city council last night, when Councilman Fred Workman and William Fiddes were appointed as a committee to study the proposal with Monterey and Carmel authorities.

The subject of gas and electricity rate reduction is likewise included in this latest move in an effort to reduce costs of utility services.

Should the three communities join in an attempt to bring about such reductions, it was pointed out last night, the petition would be presented before the California railroad commission utility regulating body.

The subject was brought to the attention of the council when Workman suggested that the council investigate the advisability of city acquisition of fire hydrants for which an annual rental is now being paid. Rates on the Peninsula, Workman asserted, are far too costly in comparison with hydrant rentals in other nearby towns.

It was pointed out that the Carmel council, believing such rentals to be exorbitant, is now considering action before the railroad commission.

Argyll Campbell, city attorney remarked that while economic conditions have reduced the value of land, rates fixed by the railroad commission for utility services, based on the fixed capital investment of those corporations, have not been reduced. "It seems to me that those rates might be reduced in conformity with reduction in other values right down the line," he said. "I may be wrong, but I think the matter is worth looking into."

Appointment of Workman and Fiddes as a committee followed.

MANZANITA CLUB WILL HAVE DUTCH DINNER

The Manzanita club will enjoy another of their famous Dutch dinners at the club next Saturday night, which will be attended by members and invited guests.

One of the numbers provided for entertainment will be prize fights between local pugilists, and what fights. It will be better than the Corbet-Fields fight Wednesday.

Michel
Penha
Here
Saturday,
February 25

Students of the cello are coming on Saturday night from even so far as Newman in Stanislaus county to hear the program of music for the cello played by Michel Penha on this Saturday night, February 26, on the second of the concerts of the Carmel Music Society in the Sunset School auditorium.

Penha has endeared himself to the whole Peninsula by his patient and tireless direction of the Monterey Peninsula orchestra. His artistry and beauty of tone combined with his brilliant technique won an ovation for him when he played a "Suite for Cello Alone" by Bach last summer on the final program of the Chamber Music series.

Saturday night's concert will mark one of the high points of the season and of all concerts in Carmel to date, and no music lover will want to miss it.

The program opens with a group of old Italian masters, dating back to the sixteenth century, before Bach. Frescobaldi (15-83) is represented by a Toccata, which is happy, vigorous, and brilliant in its style. If Penha were not playing on a Guadagnini cello, over a

ACTRESS TO CARMEL TO WORK ON BOOK

Carmel has the loveliest trees in the world, the most wonderful air and charming people, according to Gabrielle Woodworth of Berkeley, who has been in the Comings cottage at Lincoln and Third for the past month.

Mrs. Woodworth came here to work on her book "Experiences of the Stage During the End of the Last Century." And what a wealth of information Mrs. Woodworth has! She played with Edwin Booth and was with Lawrence Barrett during the last two years of his public appearances. Then later she was with Booth and Mojeska, and for six years, was leading woman with the latter.

Besides being an actress, Mrs. Woodworth is also a singer. She sang in grand opera in Italy, a pupil of Lombardi of Florence. She is also a painter of exceptional talent. When war broke out she returned to America from Italy and helped entertain the boys in the camps. Her stage name was Gabrielle Beaumont.

Mrs. Clark Brockway of San Francisco spent the month here with her, and Mrs. Woodworth's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee Hall came down from Berkeley for the week-end and took the two ladies home.

Mrs. Woodworth will come again soon, as she finds Carmel a particularly inspiring place to write and to paint.

CARMEL VICTORIOUS IN HATTON FIELD ZONING

Amidst cheers from the throats of many Carmel folk, the county board of supervisors Monday afternoon adopted unanimously the recommendation of the Planning commission that Hatton Fields be redistricted so that no hot dog stands, filling stations nor any camp grounds along the highway may mar its beauty.

Attorney Gardner of Santa Cruz represented the Carmel Land company, who wish to keep the land open for commercial purposes, and Judge Bardin represented the Hatton Fields interests. Speeches were made by Messrs. Harke, Ball, Sheridan and Catlin in favor of zoning. Mayor Catlin spoke for the Carmel people. "The view from the hill," Mr. Catlin said, "can be equalled not any place on this earth or any planet."

Carmel folk are indeed thankful that the supervisors heeded their cry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Leidig spent Wednesday with friends in Palo Alto.

PINAFORE PLAYING AT COMMUNITY PLAYHOUSE

Folk from Carmel and surrounding territory are enjoying this week "Pinafore" at Carmel Playhouse. Performances began last evening and will be heard Thursday, Friday and Sunday nights.

Pinafore is an old favorite and the players under the direction of Galt Bell are giving a wonderful performance.

Preston Search is in charge of the music, which also guarantees perfection.

Everyone in Carmel will want to attend Pinafore one of these four nights.

Scrip Dollars Please Carmel Business Men

"The Carmel dollars are coming along nicely," said Howell Byrnes of the Carmel Business Men's association Tuesday. Mr. Byrnes stated that $40 had been paid out for labor on the previous Saturday.

Many of the merchants, however, had not received any of the scrip at the time Carmel Sun goes to press. More "dollars" will be paid out this Saturday, however, and they will probably become general.

The association decided to withhold Dollar No. 1. They will place on it the required 36 stamps and are having these cancelled by the great and near-great of Carmel. It will be auctioned off and the money used to augment the unemployment relief fund.

Mayor Catlin took into his possession No. 2, the first to be circulated in legitimate channels and will watch it closely so that he may be the one to cash it in.

The mayor and Mr. Byrnes had some words as to which of the two scrip dollars would be more valuable, the mayor claiming No. 2 and Mr. Byrnes No. 1.

To be perfectly fair to both sides, Carmel Sun decided they were both right.

REGISTRATION CLOSED SATURDAY FEBRUARY 18

Those who counted on being able to register Monday were disappointed as the books were closed Saturday. It is true that one can register until within 40 days of election, but in order for Monday to have been the last day, the forty days required would have had to include the 20th and election day.

Not many people, however, were in the position of having to register as the great majority had voted last fall.

The next election scheduled is that of March 13 when trustees for Carmel Sanitary district will be chosen. The Triangle Realty company will be the polling place.

CLUB DONATES $45 FOR UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

With twenty tables taken at the card party given by the Carmel Woman's club Monday afternoon, the nice sum of $45 was received to be turned over to the unemployment relief committee of Carmel.

About ninety people enjoyed the affair, those not playing coming in for tea and the little homemade cakes made by some of the club members.

Awards for skill were made at each table and these gifts were hand made by talented people of Carmel, Miss Culbertson donated one of her delightful water colors.

The club room was decorated in acacia and the tables covered in brown paper, giving a very pleasing appearance.

The committee in charge of the afternoon comprised Mrs. H. S. Wheldon, Titus, Heathorne, Ryland and Mather and Miss Pegram. Nye, chairman; and Mesdames

INTERESTING CARMEL

Interesting things about Carmel and Carmel People.

The editors made a few calls Monday and are passing along to Carmel Sun readers a few of the interesting things they ran across. These little notices of interesting things and people in our own village will be called to your attention frequently, since everyday association may be inclined to make one unmindful of the beauties about them. These articles have nothing whatever to do with the commercial side of Carmel Sun.

We saw a Philadelphia Windsor chair 150 years old, a beauty and as solid and strong as the day it was made, a pretty thing but not fragile, nor yet unwieldy. There were also some solid silver teaspoons dating back to the time of George II. These spoons sell in England from $15 to $600 per ounce. They are made from pure coin silver and are adorned by family crests. An early Dutch clock, dating back to 1750 was one of the things we liked also. These were at Balaam's on Dolores.

If you haven't seen that wonderful lunch cloth at Eustace's, you've missed something. Made on the finest linen and depicting scenes of Napoleon, every stitch is just so. One can hardly realize that it is hand work and made a stitch at a time. Even the eyelashes have not been neglected and are as perfect as a photograph. Mr. Eustace thinks it was probably a convent piece. The cloth once belonged to Sarah Bernhardt. Its value has been set by a connoisseur at $3,000.

We stopped at the Denny-Watrous gallery and admired the work by John O'Shea. That it, we admired some of it. Some of it, we leave for persons of deeper perceptions. We liked the animals, the people and some scenes. No one can dispute the artist on some of them, for who can say what are the inner workings of his mind? Mr. O'Shea gained note as a painter of the sea, and has since taken up another line of black and white. You will enjoy it, whether you get all the artist's ideas or not.

Now that we have really examined old amber, the words bring to us a pleasant sensation, a sort of soul-feast. Though age has a tendency to darken amber, some of the strands of beads at Merle's Treasure shop are still light and carry a lustre that can be equalled in nothing else, even though they are more than 100 years old. Such beads as these are now almost unobtainable. Hand carved jades and Australian opals vie with each other for your attention.

PENINSULA ORGANIZATION TO HEAD RELIEF WORK

So that relief work from the three peninsula towns may not overlap, the Peninsula Council of Social Agencies has been organized with Jack Lloyd as chairman, H. D. Coon, vice chairman, and Miss Audrey Walton, secretary.

These officers are already engaged in relief work, Mr. Lloyd being secretary of the Monterey Peninsula relief commission, Mr. Coon head of Unemployment Relief Unit No. 2, and Miss Walton secretary of the Carmel chapter of Red Cross.

The council will meet twice monthly and will make an effort to increase co-operation in relief work and exchange ideas.

At the session Monday afternoon in Monterey were: H. D. Coon, Mrs. Howard Hatton, Miss Audrey Walton and Jack Lloyd of Carmel, A. B. Jacobson and Mrs. W. G. Wanser of Pacific Grove, and Miss Effie Spencer, Roy Frisbee, J. W. Gilgely, Mrs. Ella Densmore, W. J. Leach and T. A. Dorney of Monterey.

Investigation had disclosed that certain families had been obtaining relief from each of the charity organizations, and this is one of the many things the new commission hopes to correct.

MANZANITA CLUB HAS FINE TIME AT PARTY

Forty-four members and guests of the Manzanita club enjoyed Dutch Whist at the club Wednesday evening of last week. Main prizes for skill went to the following:

Five dollars in gold, Miss Emily Walters; two and one-half in gold, Robert Pearson, and one dollar to Mrs. A. J. Johnson.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Mildred Melrose was a Monterey visitor Tuesday afternoon.

Carmel girls from Monterey Union high marched in a body to the beach yesterday afternoon singing "This Is The Way We Go to School on Washington's Birthday."

Miss Helen Hight and Ernest Mennell of Salinas visited Carmel friends Sunday.

Madame Pirenne stated Tuesday when calling at Carmel Sun office that everything was set for the big Mardi Gras ball to be given by the Alliance Francaise next Tuesday night.

Many of Carmel's business places were closed Wednesday in honor of Washington's birthday. Only a few unfortunates, including Carmel Sun force, had to keep pegging away.

Jack Dalton, sports editor of Carmel Sun, went to San Francisco Tuesday to attend the big fight. He accompanied the Westworths, who returned to Carmel last week for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mercer, of Canada, left Tuesday for southern California for a few weeks' stay. Mrs. Mercer has been at Pine Inn for a few weeks. They will return to Carmel.

J. J. Gillis and Dick Harris of Salinas were visiting with Carmel friends Sunday. Mr. Gillis has been on the Salinas Index staff but expects to leave soon for Honolulu to work on the newspaper there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Howard, who were recently married in San Francisco, spent a few days this week at Pine Inn on their way to their home from the southern part of the state.

Both Junipero and Sixth street have been greatly improved by grading and filling during the past few days. Workmen say that the ground has become so packed it is almost like scraping cement, and are wishing for a rain to make the work easier.

Mrs. Joseph R. Eggert, formerly of Piedmont but now of Buffalo, N. Y., with her daughter, Miss Betty, who is attending U. C., spent a few days this week at Pine Inn. Mrs. Eggert will remain with her daughter in Berkeley for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Campbell of Redwood City, Calif., are spending several days of their honeymoon at Hotel La Ribera.

Mrs. R. A. Wentworth and son John Wentworth of Palm Springs, Calif., are spending several days at Hotel La Ribera visiting their many friends in Carmel.

These little notices of interesting things and people in our own village will be called to your attention frequently, since everyday association may be inclined to make one unmindful of the beauties about them. These articles have nothing whatever to do with the commercial side of Carmel Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Winslow have returned to Pebble Beach after spending the past week-end in Burlingame as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul I. Fagan. On Friday evening, the Winslows attended the dinner dance which Mr. and Mrs. George Leib gave in celebration of their tenth wedding anniversary.

W. E. Mack of the Carmel Laundry and H. R. Kerner, along with Joe Delmas of Carmel and San Jose, drove down to Moss Landing Sunday and each got the limit in clams. The limit, by the way, being 15 clams not less than five inches in width at the widest place. Mr. Mack said they got pretty wet and had a good time.

E. L. Taylor of Lincoln and Third left Sunday morning for Chicago and other eastern points. Mr. Taylor is executor of the will of a friend who passed away in Los Angeles Saturday and is taking her body back east for interment. While in the East he will go to Columbus, Ohio, to visit two brothers and his nephew, Dr. Neeley Taylor, who has just returned from Europe with his family. He will also visit a life long friend, Senator Fitch at Marion, Ind.

TEACHER GIVES VIEWS ON CHILD CONDUCT

Mrs. Montmorency, one of the teachers at Sunset school, read a most interesting paper before the teachers last week, which Carmel Sun is pleased to pass on to the readers in part. Space and time prevents giving the entire paper, which is excellent: Mrs. Montmorency said:

"True education is not expressed in terms of intelligence, but rather in terms of conduct and character. The chief aim of our educational system then should not be what a man can learn, but what he may become in service to humanity."

"The ideal method of character training in public schools involves specially trained leaders who appear before the class only during the period set aside for character lessons. Because of the impersonal method of presenting the lesson each child feels free to sit in on the discussion of his own life—to him the most interesting thing in the world to talk about."

"We could caution children to stop when in a tight place and ask themselves how what they are tempted to do would fit into their life building, if their lives were planned like an engineer plans a skyscraper. What if many years from now their life building would show the windows in the wrong place, the stones out of line, and the like?"

"The child must be taught to seek for true values as one would seek for treasure, realizing that only through them can happiness and success be gained."

"In arithmetic the child can trace a false value through a problem and see how it brings failure when the answer is reached. In similar manner then the child can trace a false value such as involved in every lie, fit of anger, etc., through a typical day in a human life and see how it brings unhappiness and failure."

"The child should be taught that true industriousness is meaningful activity arising out of the proper kind of feelings such as cheerfulness, ambition, etc., and that it concerns itself only in doing good and useful deeds."

"In addition to providing the children with high-power thoughts the teacher should make a study of the real causes of failure in her room on the part of the pupils and enlist the co-operation of the parents in correcting the character lacks."

Perry Newberry motored down on the Big Sur Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Leidig spent Wednesday with friends in Palo Alto.

Joe Mora, Jr., returned home Wednesday from a short stay in the City.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Kent Stone of San Francisco were week-end guests in Carmel.

Deanie and Leonard Rockwell, sons of Mrs. Clara Rockwell, who are ill, are getting along nicely.

Prices of vegetables and eggs have been slightly higher this week. This is good for the farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thurston of Berkeley are spending a few days at their cottage in Carmel Highlands.

Mrs. H. Gregory has returned from a stay in San Francisco to her cottage, Pine Oak on Camino Real.

Earl Graft went to San Francisco Tuesday to march with the American Legion there Wednesday and to attend the big fight.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spitzer and daughters were at Pine Inn for several days before locating in a cottage at the corner of 13th and Casanova.

Mrs. Gertrude Wall, pottery teacher, was unable to come down from her home in Berkeley last Friday and attend to her classes, but expects to be here this week.

Robinson Walker, who was to have returned home last Thursday, from San Francisco, has decided to remain there instead, being employed in a drug store in that city.

A nice little river was flowing about noon Monday by the Forge in the Forest when a water pipe was broken by the city grader which was being employed on the streets.

Mrs. L. H. Leidig drove down to Menlo Park Tuesday and took her son, Norman, who entered Menlo Park Military school. Norman, who has been quite ill, has completely recovered.

FRIENDS ARE ASKING OVERSTREET'S RETURN

Letters and more letters are still piling in on Congressman-Elect McGrath at San Mateo asking for the re-appointment of Postmaster W. L. Overstreet. That these letters come from both Democrats and Republicans in Carmel speak well for Mr. Overstreet's popularity.

It would seem that two Democrats who have been spoken of for the place are not even residents of Carmel, one having been away four years and the other ten. It is to be hoped that the Carmel postoffice goes to a Carmel person.

WOMAN'S CLUB, REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING

A Spanish program will feature the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's club. Mrs. Henry F. Grady of Berkeley, assisted by Mrs. Williamson, will appear in Spanish costume and will be sure to give a delightful entertainment. The time and place are as usual, 2:30 Monday afternoon at the Girl Scout House.

STOP ASSESSMENT ABUSE

(Following is a portion of an editorial from the San Francisco News, February 20, 1933.)

Organizing special assessment districts for all sorts of improvements has been a favorite indoor sport of California promoters for many years.

The modus operandi has been to get a petition signed by a lot of property owners, rush it before the board of supervisors, give them to understand the improvement called for is absolutely imperative, then soak a tax on all the taxable property within the district to pay the cost.

In many cases this system has amounted to a racket, lawyers and engineers being the chief beneficiaries.

The State Chamber of Commerce believes the taxpayer needs protection against the piling up of these district costs upon his back.

It has introduced two bills at Sacramento for the purpose.

So great has been the abuse of the assessment district privilege in California that some regulation of this kind is badly needed. The News hopes the Legislature will give serious consideration to these two measures."

Carmel gets a big treat as Lynn Hodges suppressed poem goes in the much read corner this week. Mr. Hodges tried to get the following published in Sea Side but the famous critic, Three Ball Cassidy, who runs the "Take Your Shift Pawn Shop" said it wasn't fit to read.

SPORTS NEWS of the WEEK

By JACK E. DALTON

CARMEL PISTOL CLUB

DOING SNAPPY SHOOTING

Carmel has one of the best six shooter clubs in the state. The sporting editor got a big thrill in watching the boys shoot the other Sunday. Those boys can really handle a big six and no kidding. What was very outstanding was the fact that most of the members are using large calibre sixes and not little 22's with fancy grips. The editor saw some mighty salty shooting. There was rapid fire, slow fire, time fire, 22-calibre fire, novelty shots, playing card shots at 25 yards. And then the famous old goat shoot. If you have never seen a goat shoot go down to the six shooter range next Sunday and watch the fun.

The club shoots every Sunday at the Hatton Fields range. It was organized in 1930 and among the charter members are Chas. Guth, W. C. Tarr, C. B. Tarr, E. Van Aiken, Dr. Kocher and many others. Some of the best shots are Dave Ball, George Wood, Jr., C. B. Tarr and Jim Williams.

The club has a business meeting the first Tuesday in each month, initiation fee one buck with dues another buck every month. See any member.

The clubs shoot for the Hatton Fields trophy twice each year. They also shoot for three cups each month. In a match with the 362 Infantry last year they won by a mile and have out shot the Watsonville club four times. They took the state motor cops into camp also.

No kidding Carmel should be mighty proud of her pistol club.

The following are members.

ABALONE LEAGUE OPENS

WITH GOOD PLAYS SUNDAY

The Abalone league opened Sunday afternoon a week late. It was to have opened a week ago but old man Rain stepped in and the game had to be set over. Mayor Catlin threw the first ball to Chief of Police Moor of Monterey. The diamond was crowded when the Mayor and Chief walked out to start the game and they got a big hand from the huge crowd. The Mayor spit on his hand, rubbed a new base ball in the dirt. Fred Moore spit in his glove and Charley Van Ryper took a death grip on his bat. Fred signaled for the ball. The Mayor wound up and the ball left his hand with the speed of a bullet. A few feet and it shot to the right gathering speed all the time, until it suddenly shot to the left. "Look. Look." yelled a fan, "the double shoot." Then the crowd took up the yell. You couldn't hear yourself think. The ball was gathering speed all the time. Chief Moore watched the ball shoot towards him at terrific speed. Then as Charley Van Ryper missed the ball by nineteen inches, Fred with a bored look on his face gracefully reached out and nailed the ball. The umpire called one strike and the season was on.

ABALONE FIELD

Umpires—Tom Douglass, Dr. John Gray and Staniford.

First Game Giants vs. Pilots. Won by the Giants, 8-7. Outstanding playing was that of Bill Staniford, both on the field and at bat. Waldo Hicks also starred for the Pilots. The pitching of Ed Files was very good but errors by his team mates spoiled his chances of winning his game.

Second Game—Polo Club vs. Manzanita club won by Polo club 13 to 5. The Polo club clinched the game in the 1st inning when bunched hits and a comedy of errors allowed ten runs to the cinder of the home plate that the Manzanita club played as well as they did under these circumstances which speaks well for them and they should win their share of games in the future.

Of the teams I watched on the field yesterday, the Pilots, although they lost yesterday, looked the best of any of the teams and will give the rest of the teams plenty of trouble any time they play. The Country club has a good hustling bunch and will give a good account of themselves. The

In the game on the Point, the Del Monte club is a fast clever, live wire team and will always be a hard one to beat. They proved that by beating the Country club which is a very good team. The Shamrock and Tigers was a nip and tuck affair and going into the final inning the score read Tigers 10, Shamrocks 9, then when the Shamrocks sent 5 runs across the old home plate and won the ball game.

MRS. PHELPS ENTERS

PEBBLE BEACH MEET

Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Phelps who deserts New York society part of each year for her ranch in the Carmel Valley is among latest recruits to enter the Pebble Beach Women's Golf Championship, slated for the seaside course from March 1 to 5. Mrs. Phelps' entry arrived with those of Mrs. Eric Tyrrell-Martin, wife of the British polo ace, Mrs. S. F. B. Moise, Mrs. Harry Hunt, Mrs. Byington Ford and other Pebble Beach society women.

From Los Angeles will come Mrs. F. C. Stevens with a large delegation. Mrs. Roy Green, present title-holder, will also be on hand with Mrs. Henry Boos. Mrs. L. D. Cheney, formerly Leona Pressler, will also make the northern trek for the stellar event. Considerable interest in the North is reported by Mrs. George Eggleston, chairman of the affair.

BIG GHOST HUNT

ON THE PALO COLORADO

A ghost hunt is being formed on the Palo Colorado south of here for an Indian in war paint followed by two huge wolves and mounted on a big white horse without saddle or bridle who gallops swiftly from the ghost house to the saw mill.

The haunted house has special steps for the Indian, his horse and the two wolves to leave and enter by and no human foot uses the steps. Over the fireplace of the haunted house hangs a picture of the Indian Ghost.

The big chief only rides in the full of the moon. The last time the ghost rode a party of young folks were camped at the old saw mill and when the strange rider and his wolves showed up on the scene the party left in haste. Some of them left most of their clothes.

MANY GOOD CATCHES OF

STEELHEAD REPORTED

Charlie May, owner of the Mission cleaners was a caller Wednesday morning. Mr. May, who is one of the most ardent fishermen in the Artistic City says the run of fish has just started and that several good catches of steelhead were made last week. He also says that the man that said seal does not eat fish must have done his fishing from beside the fireplace as he has caught fish at the mouth of the river with their tails bitten off and chunks bitten out of their sides.

Steelhead are sure enough running now and a lot of good catches are being made. Doctor Andrew Merritt of the bay district got a steel head weighing twenty-five pounds last Thursday morning. Oldtime Carmel fishermen say it is one of the biggest steelhead ever taken out of the mouth of the river.

SALINAS RODEO CUT TO

THREE DAYS THIS YEAR

The Salinas Big Week has been cut to three days as the times do not warrant a five day show. The committee did not wish to miss a year as the show has run for 20 years without a break. Big week is the best show in the west and every cowboy that is a hand is there. Mickey Roberts of Monterey was a visitor at the sport's editor's office. Mickey is one of the best known Rodeo hands in the game as he takes in all the big shows. In the palaver a cow hand, Mickey rides them all over and sticks his spurs in deep. He won second in the bronc riding at Salinas last year; won second in the world's pony express at Reno, Nevada. Mickey will be at the Salinas Big Week with bells.

Marie Dressler Coming To Carmel Theatre

MARIE DRESSLER

Fun, fast and furious, Marie Dressler and Polly Moran as rival mother-in-laws doing hectic battle, screaming adventures in a small town locale, and a bit of drama in which Miss Dressler pulls at the heart strings, all woven into "Prosperity" is coming to the Carmel Theatre Sunday and Monday, February 26 and 27 with a special matinee on Sunday.

"Prosperity" is a picture with a punch. From the moment the two comedienne start battling over the married lives of their grown up children until the dramatic sacrifices of the redoubtable Marie into the denouement of the plot, it moves like lightning and laugh piles on laugh.

Anita Page and Norman Foster play the two married children of the battling dowagers, and little Jacquie Lyn and Jerry Tucker are in turn their children.—adv.

MRS. MORGAN TO GO

TO ALUMNI PARTY

Mrs. Charlotte Morgan will go to San Francisco March 9th to attend an alumni party of Irving Institute in honor of Miss Ella M. Pinkham. The affair is in honor of Miss Pinkham's 85th birthday.

Irving Institute was an Episcopalian college flourishing before the fire in San Francisco, and Miss Pinkham one of the beloved teachers. Every five years, for some time, the pupils have met to celebrate her birthday and they always look forward with a great deal of pleasure to these occasions.

Miss Pinkham, Mrs. Morgan reports, is really 85 years young, and still teaches English, having quite a number of private students.

PENINSULA ORCHESTRA

PLANNING FOR CONCERT

The Monterey Peninsula orchestra which meets every Thursday and Sunday evening at the Denny-Watrous gallery, is planning for a public concert to be given March 11 at Sunset school. Music lovers have been stopping in at the gallery when the orchestra is practicing and enjoying themselves from 8 to 9:30 at a very small fee.

Michel Penha is the director. The orchestra is now working on Beethoven's Concerto No. 1 for piano and orchestra, with Ralph Linsley as pianist; Handel's Concerto for viola and orchestra, Abraham Weiss taking the solo part, and Mozart's Night Music.

SIXTEEN TOOK TESTS

FOR NEW UNIFORMS

Sixteen members of Carmel fire department took the examination held at Sunset school last Sunday in fire prevention and proper methods of extinguishing a fire. Fire Chief Leidig was assisted by Professor Barderson and Mr. Barderson will also help in grading the papers.

It will be made known in a day or so who passed with the required 75 per cent grade.

Those who win uniforms will be expected to do their share in educating the public in fire prevention, and from their number will be chosen the men who will attend at theatres to prevent fire risks.

DON'T FORGET INCOME TAX

People are being urged by Postmaster Overstreet to make their returns to the government for their income tax and attention is again called to the fact that Mar. 15 is the last day that returns can be made for this year's tax.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Spitzer and two daughters of Toledo, Ohio are in Carmel for a considerable stay. They drove across the continent. Mr. Spitzer is a friend of Postmaster General Walter E. Brown.

OLD MONTEREY TEAM VICTORIOUS WEDNESDAY

Another first inning onslaught started Old Monterey Polo Club on the way to victory yesterday (Wednesday) in its Washington's Birthday game against the Del Monte team. The final score was 11 to 2, and five of the Old Monterey runs were chalked up in the first stanza.

The Polo Club victory gave it a clear lead in the Club Section of the Abalone League race, and dropped the Del Monte team to second place. The winner of the Mansanita club, Peninsula country club game scheduled for next Sunday will qualify for a tie for second place. Neither Old Monterey nor Del Monte play league games Sunday, although both combinations will be seen in action. Old Monterey meets the California Tennis club of San Francisco at the Polo Fields, and the Del Monte outfit will take on one of the clubs from the Abalone League's Community Section in an exhibition contest at the point.

In spite of the lop-sided score the Washington Birthday game provided plenty of stellar playing. Thrilling pursuits of fly-balls were staged by Verga, Nye and Clark Tiedeman of Del Monte, and Mort Henderson of the Polo Club. Barbara Douglas and Mary Henderson Polo club girl players contributed substantially to the club's victory by their work afield and at bat. Charlie Nelson, Del Monte pitcher, starred at bat with two three-masted whallops. Ro Roberts, Old Monterey second-baseman, came near a league record by corraling six fly balls during the afternoon.

Score by innings:
Old Mont. 5 3 1 0 2 0—11
Umpires: Dr. Gray, Stanford and Sheridan.
Scorer: W. L. Overstreet.

MAGAZINE TO BE PUBLISHED SOON

The Villager, a magazine for Carmel literati, will be launched soon, published by Rosalyn J. Cowan and Stuart O'Brien of Pacific Grove.

Among contributors to the new periodical will be Lincoln Steffens and Herbert Heron. Miss Dorothy Pinkham will be an associate editor.

Carmel Sun gives the new magazine a welcome to the city and predicts for them a prosperous career.

WRITE CHOICE TO THE

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

It has been suggested that all persons in Carmel who are interested in the post office site write to the Treasury department, stating which of the two locations under consideration they favor.

White Cedars on Ninth street and the Gould property at the foot of the hill are under consideration.

The department is anxious to put the office in the site which will please the greatest number of people.

STORES HAVE HOT BARGAINS FOR YOU

If you think you can beat the prices of the Independent stores just take a look over the ads in this issue of Carmel Sun.

Leidig's are offering bird gravel and seed for ten cents, two bottles of Lime Rickey for 25 cents, and—but read the ads for yourself and meditate. Compare them with the chain store prices.

And get an eye full of the bargains in Minges' ad:

Schillings' coffee at 31 cents; vegetables, four bunches for a nickel, and eggs at 15 cents. This is the Minges' first ad with Carmel Sun.

If you like Carmel Sun, mention our ads to our advertisers. Just say, "I read your ad in Carmel Sun." For your own convenience clip the ads and take them to the stores so you won't forget the specials. Adv

GREY EAGLE

The Matchless Pacer

It was night when he finally got close enough to the fence for me to get off on it. I went over it like a monkey. He grabbed at the seat of my pants when I went and still had plenty of fight left; but I'd made a start and I was sure happy.

I was too tired to eat, let alone cook. So I crawled into my roundup bed and went to sleep in about ten seconds. The sun was an hour high when I finally woke up. Every joint in my body was sore. It took me ten minutes to get out of bed, and when I tried to walk, I felt like I was ninety years old.

The big grey was standing in the center of the corral. The saddle was full of dirt and scratched up. He must have spent half the night trying to tear it off, and outside of being a little gaunt and skinned up, he looked as full of fight as ever.

I wasn't very crazy to ride him again, but I finally roped him, got the blind back, and then stepped aboard. He didn't buck as hard as he did the first day, but he made things plenty tough for a half-dead cowboy. When he quit bucking I hazed him round and round the corral, never letting him rest. Say, that horse had more wind than a balloon. He never drew a long breath—just kept going. I began to teach him to turn and stop, so that I could ride him out in the open and get him to town. He was plenty smart. By night he would stop and turn pretty good, and he let me get off and unsaddle him without very much fuss. I was pretty pleased with myself. I was sure me and the old grey were going to get along.

That night my string of saddle horses left. I had them turned out on the range just outside the corral, with a couple of them hobbled. They were old camp horses and I didn't think they'd leave; but the hobbles must have come off. It didn't make me feel so hot. I was left alone with that maneating stallion and my grub was about gone. It was twenty miles to the nearest ranch. I was going to have to ride him to town sure enough now, and I
